

DAVE LUEHR

Keynote Speaker | Business Leadership Expert | Entrepreneur
Author | Vocal Artist

Devoting the first three decades of his career to developing efficient and profitable businesses, Dave has built a robust international reputation helping businesses succeed.

Recognizing the most prevalent issues as well as their universal nature across all industries, Dave is set on using his knowledge to help more entrepreneurs overcome their challenges and turn them into opportunities.

His roots in both business and as a recording artist in Nashville are the foundation of his ever-expanding expertise, and he devotes much of his time to sharing his knowledge and skills with other business owners, no matter the sector. Dave is passionate about providing the tools and knowledge needed to build a "magnetic" business model with a high-performance culture that attracts and retains top talent.

An expert writer, keynote speaker, and entertainer, Dave has inspired international audiences and helped thousands improve their businesses and quality of life through leadership development and business coaching.

EDUCATIONAL, ENTERTAINING & ACTIONABLE!

"At the Women's Industry Network Conference, Dave challenged us to think outside of our comfort zone. As a respected business leader, if you're looking for an entertaining speaker for your event, you can't go wrong with Dave Luehr." – Petra Schroeder, Chair of WIN

"I find Dave to be an engaging and profound speaker. His scope and ability to read and interact with the audience, is special. For Dave, it's not about speaking to or educating the audience, there's a desire to connect and be with the audience as the journey of learning occurs, while influencing the opportunity for personal development." – Flavio Battilana, Chief Strategy Officer, CSN Collision Centres
